To whom it may concern,

I first used the services of James Andrews Recruitment Solutions back in April 2009 for a short term temporary vacancy within our HR department. I was aware of the background of the company and the experience they had in recruitment and therefore provided them with an opportunity.

Following the success of the first contract, as an organisation we continued to use their services in other departments including tenancy management, supported housing, maintenance and repairs, finance and business services. They have worked on approximately 45 temporary vacancies with an incredibly successful hit rate providing high levels of suitable candidates, many of which we have offered permanent contracts to where opportunities arose.

I have found James Andrews Recruitment Solutions to be reliable and professional and someone who we can trust to deal with our recruitment needs efficiently, providing excellent staff that have made a positive difference to our future goals. They have demonstrated on several occasions commercial decisions to develop long term relationships and not just short term gain.

For these reasons we have continued to use JAR Solutions as our main supplier and I would have no hesitation in recommending their services to other organisations.
